Into the Woods Jr., a musical by Stephen Sondheim and James Lapine, intertwines classic fairy tales like Cinderella, Jack and the Beanstalk, Little Red Riding Hood, and Rapunzel with a modern, introspective twist. Set in a magical forest, the story follows characters on quests to fulfill their wishes—seeking items like “the cow as white as milk” and “the slipper as pure as gold.” The first act sees their desires granted, but the second act delves into the unforeseen consequences, exploring themes of responsibility, moral complexity, and the impact of choices. Known for Sondheim’s intricate score and Lapine’s rich narrative, this contemporary classic balances humor with darker, thought-provoking themes, offering a poignant reflection on life and human nature.
